Maiden Trip Of A-Vessel Is Set Today

Launching Of Ship Signals Whole New Area

ABOARD NUCLEAR SHIP SAVANNAH (AP) — This 22,000-ton vessel — the world's first known atomic-powered merchant ship — shoves off today on a maiden voyage which signals the opening of a new era in commercial passenger and cargo hauling on the high seas.

The 2½-day voyage from historic Yorktown, Va., to Savannah, Ga., also will mark an American advance in the technological race with the Soviet Union. The Soviets have built a nuclear-powered icebreaker, but their plans to enter the nuclear-powered merchant ship field are believed to be still in the blueprint stage.

FIRST TYPE

The Savannah is not expected to enter regular commercial service for about a year and a half. Meantime it will make demonstration trips and possibly take on some paying passengers for trips between American ports.

Atomic Energy Commission officials said the vessel is not expected to operate at a profit because it is the first ship of its kind "and costs of such a prototype are necessarily high."

Among passengers aboard the great white ship for the run to Savannah, Ga., were Georgia Gov. and Mrs. Ernest Vandiver; Rep. and Mrs. G. Elliot Hagan of Georgia, and Mayor and Mrs. Malcolm MacLean of Savannah.

The ship was named in honor of the 320-ton sailing vessel with auxiliary steam power that first crossed the Atlantic in 1819 using steam power part of the way.

Although the Savannah has undergone previous sea trials, the present trip marks her first excursion to a regular commercial port.

The ship has vast capabilities. With a single fueling of its mammoth atomic furnace, it could cruise for 2½ years, a distance of 300,000 miles—much farther than the distance between the earth and the moon.

It is fueled by 17,000 pounds of uranium oxide, the power equivalent of 90,000 tons of fuel oil.

The ship's designed speed is 20 knots—about 23 statute miles per hour—but she already has done up to 24 knots in trials off Yorktown.

Representatives of the Atomic Energy Commission and the U.S. Maritime Administration of the Department of Commerce were all smiles before sailing time. The two government agencies jointly developed the Savannah, which is operated for the government by States Marine Lines.

Declares U.S. Helpless Against Space Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., said today the United States stands defenseless against attacks that could come from orbiting Soviet space vehicles.

By placing the major emphasis of its space efforts on scientific exploration and civilian applications, it may be offering the Soviet Union the opportunity of "an enormous and possibly insurmountable military advantage," Cannon said in a speech prepared for Senate delivery.

"I see no evidence that there is a national, authoritative intent to accelerate the earliest practicable development of urgently needed military (space) capabilities," he said.

"Where, for example, is the necessary project to develop a means of intercepting, inspecting and destroying, if necessary, hostile satellites that could bear super megaton bombs down on us?" Cannon, a brigadier general and jet pilot in the Air Force Reserve, said that such a development program, though advocated by the military services, has been specifically delayed by civilian officials.

"To the best of my knowledge," Cannon said, "no defense whatever exists at this time against any military attack that might be made from the space region even though such attacks are within the present capability of the Soviet Union."

Arsonists Hunted After 160 Acres Burned In State

BATON ROUGE (UI)—Forestry authorities today marshalled forces to track down persons they believed deliberately set forest fires. They also warned blowup conditions were spreading.

State Forester James E. Mixon said at least 38 fires which started Sunday burned 160 acres of woodland. Six of these—three in Vernon Parish and three in Evangeline Parish—were still burning Sunday night.

Mixon said maximum danger conditions existed in the areas of three of Louisiana's 33 fire stations. He said the three stations reported "a buildup index of 100." Worst conditions exist in northwest and southwest portions of the state.

EASY DAY

"We expect an additional eight stations to join the 100 range within five days unless we get some kind of heavy rain," he added. "An inch of rain would bring this thing down to zero."

Most of the recent fires have occurred in Evangeline and Vernon Parishes. Mixon said the district forester in that area requested more enforcement agents to find out who started fires.

"We have reason to believe some of the fires were purposely set because of constant recurrence of fires there," he explained. "We have responded by sending additional enforcement officers," he added.

The state forester said Sunday "was an easy day, relatively speaking, with the low loss of acreage. There won't be any real relief, however, until we get adequate rainfall."

Saturday 58 separate fires started and burned 757 acres. Another 855 acres went up in smoke with 70 blazes Friday.

Mixon said 25 outbreaks Saturday night on Vernon Parish property of the Luther-Moore Lumber Co. were "spite fires." They consumed 100 acres of plantation pine before being extinguished Sunday.

"Somebody deliberately set those fires," Mixon said. "Somebody is angry with the lumber company and so they set the spite fires."

A three-man firefighting crew had been assigned to each of the 105 watch towers in the state to try to cope with the widespread threat.

"The crews are equipped with a truck and crawler-type tractor with a hydraulic fire flow," Mixon said. "We try to isolate a blaze—plow a strip around it and then set backfires and let the fire consume itself."

Alaska Report

A West Monroe school teacher's visit to Alaska has received detailed publicity from one of Alaska's leading newspapers, the Daily Alaska Empire, published in Juneau. The teacher, Mrs. Lola Crowell, wrote a letter to the editor explaining her impressions during an enjoyable visit to that northernmost American state. The letter was published in full.

Ready To Sail

Mary Jo Strauss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. (Ted) Strauss, 1600 Riverside, Monroe, is in New York, preparing to sail for Europe tomorrow for a year's study at the University of Madrid. The family is in New York to see her off.

Mary Jo, who today joins a group of students from other colleges leaving for the University of Madrid, will sail on the S. S. Cristoforo Colombo, queen liner of the Italian Lines.

FOR SOUTH

More Record Heat In Store

By United Press International
More record heat was in store for spots in Dixie and the Midwest today.

The weekend closed with a high at Nashville, Tenn., of 101 degrees, the hottest in eight years. The high of 105 at Little Rock, Ark., was a record for the date.

The 105 reading at St. Louis, Mo., tied a record set in 1936 and was the highest reported there since July 26, 1954. Milwaukee baked in 93-degree heat, matching the previous high this year.

At Louisville, Ky., the mercury climbed to 98, the hottest it has been there for three years. For the first time since 1960, the temperature broke 100 in Kansas City.

Doctors Press Vaccinations In Pox Scare

Seek All Persons In Contact With Young Victim

NEW YORK (AP)—Health officials of two nations worked against an awesome deadline today to find and vaccinate all persons who may have come in contact with a young Canadian small-pox victim.

The stricken boy, James William Orr, 14, flew here from Sao Paulo, Brazil, Aug. 11 on a plane with more than 80 other persons, including his parents and a brother and sister.

He passed through Idlewild Airport, traveled by cab to Grand Central Terminal and sat in the huge station's waiting room for 8½ hours before boarding a train for Toronto.

In Toronto the boy, described by his missionary father as feeling "under the weather," was taken to a doctor and eventually to a Canadian hospital.

Canadian authorities said the boy's illness was virtually certain to be smallpox, although confirming tests were still to be made. U.S. Public Health Service officials said there was no doubt.

It was the first confirmed case of smallpox in the United States since 1947, they said.

The development left New York City with the staggering task of running down all who may have come in contact with the boy here—including those who handled his baggage at the airport, the cab driver who drove the family to the city and those few from among the thousands of unknowns at Grand Central Terminal who may have touched or passed near the boy in the waiting room.

The city health department set up 12 vaccination centers in Manhattan and the Bronx, while issuing a call for all those who may have come in contact with the boy to step forward without delay.

Smallpox is a highly communicable disease that can be fatal if unchecked.

Soviet Spokesman Rejects Latest Treaty Proposal

GENEVA (AP) — A Soviet spokesman today rejected proposals for a nuclear test ban treaty which would not include underground test explosions.

The spokesman told newsmen before the opening of the 72nd session of the 17-nation disarmament conference that a partial test ban "will not settle the problem" of ending the nuclear armaments race "because the Americans would continue testing weapons underground."

The spokesman added that the Soviet Union remains "dedicated to the neutralist eight-power memorandum" which it accepted as the sole basis of negotiating an American-British-Soviet treaty banning all tests.

The spokesman claimed that the idea of a partial test ban—raised so far by Brazil, Sweden and Italy—is the disarmament conference—has not been presented as a formal proposal. Therefore the Soviet government has not yet reacted officially to the idea with in the meeting, he said.

Because of mounting neutralist pressure, the Kennedy administration has been weighing the idea of U.S. assent to a partial ban. Recent reports from Washington said the U.S. government might be willing to consider such a ban—which would not halt the atomic arms race but would at least eliminate the health hazard of radioactive fallout—provided American security interests are not jeopardized.

Alleged Narcotics Dealer Sain

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — William T. Devenney, 34, recently described by police as the No. 1 marijuana dealer in the French Quarter, was found fatally shot in the second-floor hallway of an apartment building Sunday night.

Officers said Miss Barbara Harper, 23, found the body in the hallway next door to Devenney's residence and called police.

Police said Miss Harper told them she shared Devenney's apartment, and when she was returning from an errand she heard a shot next door, where she investigated and found the body.

Devenney was clutching a gun in his hand when officers arrived. Police arrested and booked Devenney last Aug. 6 on narcotics charges, and at the time one official called him "the biggest single seller of marijuana in the French Quarter."

PRESIDENT KENNEDY went for a swim in the ocean behind his brother-in-law's home in Santa Monica yesterday and was almost mobbed by hundreds of bathers. They followed him into the water fully clothed. The president was good-natured about it and shook hands with as many as he could but the secret service almost panicked. ## JFK Swamped By Admirers During Swim

LOS ANGELES (AP)—President Kennedy, weekending here, decided to take a swim in the Pacific — and was almost swamped by a throng of 1,000 admirers.

The scene was reminiscent of Coney Island on a muggy Fourth of July. The Secret Service, to a man, was in a mild state of shock.

Bystanders walked into the sea fully clothed as the President stroked into the ocean in front of the Santa Monica beach home of his brother-in-law, Peter Lawford.

It happened Sunday during the President's 33-hour visit to Southern California, a flying trip which ended shortly before midnight when the presidential jet took off to return to Washington, D.C.

It had been billed as a non-political trip, although the President obviously helped the cause of Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown when they dedicated the $511-million San Luis Dam in central California on Saturday.

The President spent much of his time in Southern California with Lawford — whose wife, like the President's, is vacationing in Europe.

Sociologist Hits Boys Baseball

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI) — A University of Vermont sociologist says childhood should be given back to children and Little Leaguers should be sent back to the sandlots.

Dr. J. Anthony Samenfink said Sunday "Let's give childhood back to children. Do away with all this synthetic competition. Let them go back to sandlot baseball."

A professor of family living and human relations, Samenfink said, "Nowadays, Little League has reached a frantic pitch. Competition is keen. The team has to win. Fathers are scouting around to see how the other teams are doing. Mothers are yelling themselves hoarse — 'Junior, why haven't you played yet?' 'How does that make a boy feel?'"

"If fathers are so strong on sports, why don't they organize a Daddy's League? Instead of this zeal to produce a son with the highest batting average, fathers should take up the game themselves," he said.

Continued hot and dry weather is the rule for the next five days, according to the weather bureau.

Ol' Windy Whiffenduff noted it was 98 degrees in Monroe Sunday and is expected to be 98 again today and Tuesday.

Skies will be clear to partly cloudy. One hundred degree readings were common around the area Sunday with 102 at Columbia, 100 at Calhoun, Oak Ridge and Winnsboro.

Accidents Kill Thirteen Persons

By United Press International
Thirteen persons died violently in Louisiana accidents over the weekend. Traffic mishaps killed 11, one drowned and another was electrocuted by a downed power line after a highway crash.

United Press International kept the grim count from 6 p.m. Friday through midnight Sunday.

Three died Sunday in the worst single accident, a head-on collision on State Route 1 eight miles south of Alexandria. Dead were Jasper Herrion Jr., 30, Jimmie Hopkins, 20, both of Pineville, and Leonard Shotlaw, 30, Alexandria.

Police said Herrion and Shotlaw, both Negroes were in a car driven by Herrion which was on the wrong side of the road when it crashed with the car Hopkins was driving.

Oday Dugas, 54, and his wife, 44, were killed in a crash Sunday when their pickup truck pulled from a side road onto U. S. 90 six miles west of Lafayette into the path of an auto. They lived near Lafayette.

Willie B. Conners, a 25-year-old Franklin Negro, was electrocuted Sunday night. He stepped on a power line knocked down when the car he was driving hit a utility pole on State Route 83 southwest of Franklin.

Two out-of-state servicemen died when their car veered into the opposing lane on Chef Menteur Highway in New Orleans Saturday and smashed into an oncoming car. They were Roger R. Smith, 21, Wayne, N.J., and Jerry Mace Lane, 19, Panama City, Fla.

A two-car crash killed 59-year-old Cassidy G. Bordeaux, Ulica, Miss., Saturday in Baton Rouge. Police said Bordeaux went through a stop sign at an intersection.

Adolph Duplessis, a 15-year-old New Orleans schoolboy, drowned in a swimming pool Saturday near Bayou LaCombe during a class outing.

The body of an apparent hit-run victim, Louis Barrouse, 62, was found Friday night on a roadside near his Metairie home in suburban New Orleans.

12 MEGATONS

RUSSIA SET OFF NEW BLAST

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP)—The Russians set off another nuclear test blast today in the atmosphere over the Novaya Zemlya region in northern Russia, Swedish scientists reported.

The explosion was recorded simultaneously at Uppsala University Seismological Institution and at the Stockholm Geodesy Institute at 4:02 a.m. EST.

Uppsala scientists set the strength of the explosion at 12 megatons while Prof. Arne Bjerrhammer of the Stockholm Institution estimated it to be around 10 megatons.

A megaton is equivalent to a million tons of TNT. Today's explosion was the fourth to be recorded here in the current series, which the Russians started Aug. 5 and continued Aug. 7 and Aug. 10, all over Novaya Zemlya.

Appeals For Calm After Weekend Riots

Demonstrators Ordered Arrested By Berlin Mayor

BERLIN (AP) — Mayor Willy Brandt today ordered West Berlin police to crack down on rioters "with the necessary vigor" after wild weekend demonstrations at the red wall brought attacks on Americans as well as Soviets.

East and West Berlin police also were involved in the melees. Brandt appealed for calm in a radio speech.

Thousands of angry West Berliners marched, shouted and threw stones at Soviets, Americans, the wall, East German border guards and their own police Sunday.

Huge slingshots were used to hurl tear gas grenades from the Communist side.

The rioting was to protest shooting by East Berlin border guards of a young refugee trying to escape Friday. He was left to die slowly on the East side of the wall while American troops and West police watched from the other side.

LIFT A BAN

Maj. Gen. Albert Watson, the U.S. commandant, disclosed the Soviet command had refused an invitation to discuss the increased tension with American, British and French commandants at U.S. headquarters. Watson had offered to lift a ban on the Soviet commandant visiting the U.S. sector.

A spokesman for the three Western powers deplored the Soviet refusal and declared:

"The irresponsible actions of the East German regime in the Soviet sector and their murderous use of fire on defenseless individuals have produced a grave situation.

"The acting Soviet commandant cannot, by refusing to discuss the situation, divest himself of his direct responsibility."

Young West Berliners — best available estimates put their number at about 5,000—rioted into the early morning hours.

A red-haired young West Berliner called for another demonstration this afternoon.

The Western spokesman said Gen. Watson sent his letter to the acting Soviet commandant at the height of last night's rioting.

Watson warned a situation "developing rapidly" that "could have grave consequences extending far beyond the city itself."

Byrd Cites Poll To Back Views On Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., said today a private poll of state and local chambers of commerce has convinced him businessmen want any future tax cut to be accompanied by spending reductions.

Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, recently challenged a call by President Ladd Plumley of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce for a quick tax cut even if it unbalanced the budget.

Byrd said in an interview he had polled state and local chambers of commerce, which have only a nominal connection with the U.S. Chamber. He said answers from all 50 states showed "overwhelming sentiment" for combining cuts in spending with tax reduction.

"Every $100 that exemption is increased will cost the Treasury $3 billion revenue," he said. "It's going to be difficult to close enough loopholes to come anywhere near making up for that loss."

25 Stalinists Purged From Puppet Ranks

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Matyas Rakosi, Hungary's former dictator, and 24 of his Stalinist followers have been booted from the Communist party in a purge of the purgers. Karoly Kiss, regarded as the leading Stalinist still in an important position in Hungary, also was demoted from the ruling Politburo.

The new purge was announced in a communiqué Sunday following a four-day meeting of the party's Central Committee. Janos Kadar, the party chief and premier who was jailed in one of Rakosi's purges, presided.

The expulsions from the party were ordered six years after the 1956 Hungarian revolt threatened to topple the Communist regime which Rakosi established with his boasted salami slicing tactics.

Expelled from the party along with Rakosi, 70, was Ernő Gero, 63, who succeeded him as the country's boss. During the 1956 revolt, Gero followed his former chief into exile in the Soviet Union. He was allowed to return to Hungary last year but was barred from political activity.

Rakosi is believed still to be in the Soviet Union. He is reported in poor health.

His expulsion from the party was a bitter finish to a lifetime career spent in the service of communism. Returning to Hungary with the Soviet army in 1945 he took over the interior ministry and police and began a campaign of undermining the Socialist and Smallholders party colleagues in the postwar government.

His method, he said, was to "demand a little more each day, like cutting up salami, thin slice after thin slice."

The other parties eventually were ousted.

Rakosi and Gero were expelled from the party because of their "absolute political responsibility for the miscarriages of justice based on forged evidence," the communiqué said. Twenty-three others dropped from the party were not named.

U.S. Ponders Giving Bonus To Veterans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government is considering payment of a bonus divided to 5.3 million veterans of the two world wars who hold GI life insurance policies, it was learned Sunday.

Veterans Administration head John S. Gleason Jr. has directed his fiscal experts to review the agency's finances, in part to determine if extra funds are available for insurance policy dividends. Gleason hopes to go over the figures in the first two weeks of September.

White House aides are interested in the possibility of extra or accelerated dividend payments for economic reasons. Payment of extra dividends, or paying the regular dividend early, would add to the purchasing power of the 5.3 million veterans.

Economists figure the veterans would be likely to spend most of the extra money, especially if they receive it during the Christmas shopping season. If they get it in January, more of it would go to pay off charge account debts run up in December rather than for extra purchasing.

Administration economists are concerned that the recent slowdown in the business upturn portends a leveling off a downturn. Consequently pumping out some extra purchasing power a little later this autumn might be very timely.

The Veterans Administration now has about $200 million in uncommitted reserves. Gleason could decide to:

—Spend none of it, instead holding it as an extra safeguard against contingencies.

—Pay out all of it as a special dividend.

—Use some of it to augment the regular dividend the VA pays each policyholder on the anniversary of his policy.

PERMITS SOUGHT

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazil has asked Cuba to issue safe conduct permits to allow more than 80 anti-Castro Cubans who have taken refuge in the Brazilian Embassy in Havana to leave the country.

A sleeper and two coaches at the rear of the Florida-bound train carrying 91 passengers left the rails Sunday and bounced along the tracks for two or three blocks.

A steel rail ripped from the roadbed sliced through the floor of the sleeper, causing the two deaths, authorities said.

Killed were Evelyn Gates, 42, Rockford, Ill., and James O'Connell, 41, Danville, Ill., a brakeman for the C&E.

Remains in the Iroquois County Hospital in fair condition with back injuries was Virginia Jacobsen, 52, Seattle, Wash. Three other persons were treated for injuries.

The C&E's main line, blocked by the wreck, was cleared late Sunday.

The engine and the first nine cars, all loaded with baggage and express shipments, remained on the track after the derailment at nearby Pittwood, about 70 miles south of Chicago.

9-Year-Old Swept Through Sewer A Mile

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I wasn't scared at all" 9-year-old Dwight Palmatier said after being swept along a flowing sewer for a mile before being rescued Sunday.

The youngsters fell while walking on a ledge in the eight-foot high sewer. The sewer is exposed during freeway construction, and Dwight and Steve Hinsley, 10, had entered the huge pipe on an exploring venture.

When Dwight fell in, he told police, he called to Steve to summon help. Steve did, and soon scores of firemen and policemen were searching the sewer, which had about 18 inches of water flowing through it.

Dwight said he finally managed to grab a piece of metal, stop himself and climb onto a ledge where he waited for help. Firemen Joe Kocher and Jerry Green found him after a 90-minute search.

Dwight was treated for exposure and sent home.

War I Comrades Honor Flying Hero

By GENE SCHROEDER
BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP) —American flying heroes who fought for France in World War I bowed graying heads in a solemn tribute Sunday to a departed comrade.

Tears glistened in the eyes of some of the old-timers as an American Legion rifle squad fired three volleys and a bugler played "Taps" in memory of Col. Frederick W. Zinn, who fought with them in the French Foreign Legion and the Lafayette Flying Corps.

Taking part in the ceremony were a handful of the few survivors who volunteered for service with the French forces before the United States entered World War I.

Zinn, the first American aerial combat photographer was buried—at his request two years ago—in Memorial Park Cemetery off the end of the runway at Battle Creek's Kellogg Field.

A plaque dedicated to Zinn's memory was unveiled Sunday at the first reunion air show by his daughter, Mrs. Howard Wirson of Chicago, and a former comrade who saved his life when Zinn was wounded in 1915, Col. David W. King of Chester, Conn.

Further tribute was paid at a quiet graveside ceremony where Baron Hans Georg von der Osten, 66, Cologne, Germany, laid a wreath on Zinn's tombstone.

The baron, who flew with Baron von Richthofen's legendary squadron of the German imperial air force, said in German as he stepped back: "With the highest respect for an honored opponent."

Another wreath was placed on the grave by the present day commander of the Lafayette Escadrille, Capt. Bernhard Zeigler, a wounded veteran of the recent Algerian war. Zeigler, 29, flew from France to join in the reunion of the men who fought in his country's behalf before he was born.

As the air heroes paid their respects to Zinn, they were well aware of their thinning numbers.

About 55 survivors are believed scattered around the world. Of the 20-odd who came to the reunion, the youngest was 66, the oldest, 87.

A nostalgic highlight of the air show was a mock aerial dog fight pitting a French Nieuport 28 against a German Fokker D7, flown by stunt pilots Frank Tallman of Santa Ana, Calif., and Cole Palen of Rhinebeck, N.Y.

Baron von der Osten, watching the battle, was not distressed when the Fokker apparently lost the fight, trailing a plume of black smoke. He said he understood that was the outcome to be expected with thousands of American spectators watching.

Nathaniel Duffy of Buffalo, N.Y., said he remembered that most of the dog fights usually didn't last as long as the 15-minute demonstration.

Usually, he said, "one plane either went down or ran away before there was much of a fight."

Anti-Birch Editor Wins Lovejoy Honor

WATERVILLE, Maine (AP) — New honor came today to an 85-year-old fighting California newspaperman—already twice honored for distinguished journalism since he challenged, last year, the activities of the John Birch Society, a militantly conservative group.

A committee, including noted newspapermen, now has named Santa Barbara publisher Thomas More Stork as the 1962 recipient of an award given yearly by Colby College in memory of an alumnus, martyred editor Elijah Parish Lovejoy.

When shot to death in Alton, Ill. Nov. 7, 1837, Lovejoy was defending—against a mob—his newspaper plant and his right to publish truth as he saw it. He has been hailed as "America's first martyr to the freedom of the press."

The award, to be presented Nov. 8 at Colby's observance of the 125th anniversary of Lovejoy's slaying, will recognize Stork as a newspaperman of "integrity, craftsmanship and character," who has continued the Lovejoy heritage of fearlessness and freedom.

Owner-editor of the Santa Barbara News-Press, Stork is dean of California publishers, having given 61 of his 85 years to running his newspaper.

The Colby College announcement noted that Stork last November received the Pulitzer Prize for editorial writing—for calling attention to what his newspaper said was a "campaign of hate and vilification" by the John Birch Society.

In May this year, the Colby announcement also noted, he received the Pulitzer Prize for editorial writing—for calling attention to what his newspaper said was a "campaign of hate and vilification" by the John Birch Society.

Accident Sets Off Series Of Car Collisions

NEW YORK (AP)—A car with a student driver at the wheel went out of control in the Times Square area Sunday and set off a chain of accidents. Seven persons were injured. Four vehicles and a store front were damaged.

Police said the car, driven by Morris Lowy, 37, first struck a taxi on 47th Street near Broadway injuring the cab's two women passengers.

The auto then mounted the sidewalk, smashed into a store front window, slid along the pavement for 25 feet, bowled over five pedestrians, rammed into two parked cars and finally ground to a halt against a parked truck.

Cosmonauts, Families Rest In Soviet Wood

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet space twins, Maj. Andrian Nikolayev and Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich, frolicked and rested with their families today in a special area reserved for astronauts in the Moscow woods.

They will hold a news conference Tuesday and are expected to give more details of their long space voyage.

Exactly where the preserve for astronauts is located was not disclosed. A writer in Pravda said the first cosmonauts, Lt. Col. Yuri Gagarin and Maj. Gherman Titov, also live there. They have large recreation and athletic areas where they can keep in good physical condition. Calm and privacy are assured.

Just how many astronauts are housed there was not disclosed. The press said cosmonauts five and six were present near the landing site. Moreover a number of trim young officers showed up at the reception Saturday night in the Kremlin for Nikolayev and Popovich.

Both Nikolayev and Popovich were at the reception for Gagarin in April, 1961 but the fact was disclosed only during their recent flight when the pictures taken then were made public.

Alexander Mikhailov, member of the Academy of Science and director of the important Pulkovo Astronomical Observatory in Leningrad, said the newest flights had proved that there was little danger that cosmic ships would be smashed or punctured by meteorites.

He added the flights proved that danger from cosmic rays and corpuscular radiation also was not great.

The two flights, he said "bring us nearer to flights to the moon and to the nearest planets."

3 Negroes Held In Albany Row

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Three Negroes who tried to attend Sunday services at the First Baptist Church in Albany, Ga., were arrested, and about 20 Negroes and white persons were turned away from six other churches.
J. J. Lairsey, assistant chief of police of Albany, said a church official called him and said he wanted to prefer charges after the three Negroes who refused to leave the church.
The Negroes, jailed under $200 bonds on a loitering charge, included the Rev. Robert M. Kinloch of New York; Miss Johnnie Mae Cooper of New York and Mrs. Anita Tumbler of Albany.
The six other churches which turned Negroes away were Vine Memorial Baptist, Central Baptist, Avalon Methodist, St. Paul's Episcopal, the First Presbyterian and the Church of Christ.
The small groups appearing at the churches had with them a written statement which said in part:
"Amid the tensions of the races in Albany, it has become imperative that Christians recognize the fact that they are members of Christ's church and as such are called to a ministry of reconciliation, breaking down the walls of hostility that separate man from his brothers and from God.
"We confess that we have difficulty in loving our white brothers who have ignored us in the process of government and in the daily walks of life.
"We do not insist upon admission, only that you recognize our presence and pray over its meaning."
In other weekend racial developments:
A Negro and two white men who continued to picket the Los Angeles hotel where President Kennedy was registered were arrested Sunday on charges of disturbing the peace. Jailed were Woodrow Coleman, 28, the Negro; Herbert Simon Mann, 36, and

PLANS WELFARE CAREER

Beauty Winner Refuses Offers

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Tania Verstak, a reluctant Cinderella, is turning down a chance to wear the royal robes she won as Miss International Beauty.
She is returning to Australia to continue preparations for a career as a welfare worker—intent on helping people who, like herself, are refugees from communism.
She has declined offers of lucrative film contracts, and she does not want to tour the world as Miss International Beauty—an endeavor which earned her predecessor $25,000.
"I've got as much money as I want," she said. She won $10,000 with the title Saturday night. She said it will go into her father's building insulation business in Sydney.
Tania, 21, felt she wasn't pretty enough for the contest, which drew 50 girls from as many nations. The judges disagreed.

The hazel-eyed lovely fled from her birthplace, Tientsin, China, with her White Russian parents 10 years ago. The parents had escaped as children from Soviet communism.
She said she'll return home to fulfill her contract as Miss Australia. It runs until Christmas.
Miss Verstak 21, intends to study English, Chinese and psychology to prepare for refugee work overseas. She already is fluent in English and Russian.
Tania posed uncomplaining and with a warm smile for the crowds of photographers who clamored for pictures Sunday. Talking to newsmen, she frequently became confused in answering their questions.
"I am sorry," she told them, "but I'm still in a daze."
Early last week the shapely, brown-haired girl said she did not expect to reach even the semi-final field of 15 plucked from original entries representing 50 countries.
"I felt I didn't belong," Miss Verstak explained. "The Australia contest wasn't for beauty. How could they choose me from all those girls?"
Oscar Meinhardt, executive producer of the pageant, said it's all right with him if the new queen does not accept the commercial offers which started pouring in on her even before she was named winner Saturday.

"Just as long as she upholds the dignity of the title," he said, "there is no objection. And I know she will. She's a wonderful girl."

After completion of her tour as Miss Australia, Tania plans to return to Sydney University at night to brush up on her languages, and to help during the day in her father's business.
Next year she'll return to Long Beach to crown her successor.
Then she hopes to go to Switzerland to work in refugee-aid organizations.

Scholars Weed Out 'Nonsense' Words In Bible

LONDON (AP)—A panel of biblical scholars is weeding out "nonsense" passages and such words as virgin and Jehovah from the Old Testament in a revolutionary English language translation which aims at more accuracy and readability.
Prof. Godfrey R. Driver, director of the 10-man panel, said the changes are expected to stir as much controversy as did those in a New Testament version by a companion group of scholars. It was published last year.
The two new translations will be combined as the New English Bible which is sponsored by a joint committee of Britain's major Protestant churches. Prof. Driver said the revised Old Testament, which has been in the works for 15 years, may be ready for printing in four years, a year ahead of schedule.
The panel is using the standard 9th Century Hebrew text for its part in the first major British revision of the Bible since the King James version appeared 351 years ago.
Driver, 70, professor of philology at Oxford University, said the Dead Sea scrolls proved "very disappointing indeed from our point of view. I do not think there are more than two dozen places where they gave us substantial help with a difficult passage, though they do provide a complete Isaiah, probably or possibly of the first century B.C."
Prof. Driver said the new wording will give the Old Testament a wholly new idiom and rhythm. Passages of poetry will be redone in verse, affecting nearly all the books of the prophets and particularly Isaiah.
The word virgin will be replaced in Isaiah's "behold a virgin shall conceive" and other passages because the original Hebrew word "means only a marriageable young woman, whether virgin or not," he said.
"Jehovah" disappears because it was a deviation produced in 1520, and "leprosy" goes since in biblical times it meant a skin disease now called psoriasis.
Also out are such archaic words as thou, thee, doth and saith except where characters speak to God. But in the prologue to Job Satan will address God as you "because Satan is the devil and is allowed to be bumptious," said Prof. Driver.
"Nonsense" passages are getting a thorough reworking.

Shorter Work Week Gets Little Support

There are more faults than virtues in the belief that reducing the work week from 40 to 35 hours would relieve unemployment problems.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council session in Chicago endorsed the move for a shorter work week. But even Labor Secretary Goldberg expressed doubts as to the value of the idea at this time.

Workers on a 40-hour schedule apparently have no real longing for more leisure. They do not regard the present work schedule as difficult to live with. But they do like the idea of overtime pay applying after 35 hours instead of 40 hours of work. And the program includes a proposal to boost the overtime rate from 1½ to 2 times the straight pay rate.

So, once again, there is a tendency towards inflation. In fact, one of the greatest flaws in the idea is the condition attached by labor spokesmen that fewer working hours should not be accomplished by fewer take home dollars.

Under such circumstances, shortening the normal work week necessarily would raise production costs. This would be true if higher rate overtime pay were added if more workers were added to the rolls in order to maintain production totals.

There is evidence, in fact, that many companies would prefer to pay overtime rates rather than taking on fringe benefit costs and responsibilities that would come with the addition of new workers.

At any rate, unless there is a compensating increase in productivity, which cannot be legislated, the additional cost problem is there. These additional costs have to be met with increased prices.

It remains to be seen just how far the union officials will go in the bargaining of this issue. Fewer working hours is a demand nearly always made during opening sessions of negotiations. Such demands are usually abandoned before other settlements are made.

On the political side of the issue—and the issue is certainly as political as economic—the labor officials' drive for a shorter statutory work week is faced with opposition from other figures in the Kennedy administration.

Besides Secretary Goldberg, the President himself has said on several occasions that he would not ask for legislation breaking the present 40-hour week practice. This opinion is shared also by Secretary of Commerce Hodges.

With today's cost-price squeeze hitting everyone from the manufacturer to the consumer, the idea of a shorter work period and a longer, more costly period of overtime would cause more economic havoc than it would serve to increase job opportunities.

President Spoke As Politician Seeking Re-Election

By DAVID LAWRENCE

President Kennedy said over television and radio on Monday night that he was speaking as the only American official, along with the Vice President, elected "By all of the people in all of the 50 states." But, unfortunately, he spoke as a politician seeking re-election, and he did not tell the people the whole story of the economic plight that confronts them.

Mr. Kennedy said not a word about the cause of the last two recessions and not a word about the news development that happened the same day he spoke which can bring on the next recession — an arbitrary rise in wage costs which could materially reduce, if not wipe out, most corporate profits.

FOR THERE appeared on the front pages of many newspapers on the same morning that the President's speech was printed—the most important piece of news that has struck the business world since the 1959 strike in steel. It was announced by executive council of the AFL-CIO — which comprises some 17,000,000 members — that it had by formal resolution decided to demand a 35-hour work week and will insist on the same take-home pay as is being received for the 40-hour work week. Also, any overtime beyond 35 hours would have to be paid for, not just on the basis of one and one-half times the hourly rate as at present, but at twice the hourly rate. The President has known for some time about this plan.

WHERE is American business going to get the money to pay for the strikes that now will ensue or for such a stupendous rise in wage costs? What good can come from the tax reduction in 1963 of a few percentage points promised to American business if there is to be such a rise in wage costs?

Yet Mr. Kennedy speaks confidently of the "economic recovery" from the recent recession. He says:

"Every consumer and businessman in America listening to me tonight knows he can safely spend and invest tomorrow with real confidence in the long-range future of the United States of America."

The President says that the economy was sick in January of last year "not only because of the 1960-61 recession, but also because of the recession of 1958."

But the President didn't tell his listeners that fundamental cause of both recessions. The threat of strikes and the actual work stoppages caused inventories to be accumulated abnormally in advance and then brought about unemployment when the demand was filled. Likewise, durable — goods industries, faced with higher wage costs, became stagnant. Mr. Kennedy cracked down on steel in April, 1962, when it tried to raise its prices to offset wage costs accumulated in the previous three years, but he has never done anything to curb the power of the labor unions which force wage costs upward and bring about strikes that disrupt the economy.

Mr. Kennedy denounces those who would oppose his "give-away" programs and what he calls "human welfare" legislation, and says that we should not "let the pressures from any special group or area stand in the way of fulfilling our promises in the 1960's." But the biggest pressure group of all goes on wielding its monopolistic power just the same.

THE DIE is cast, therefore, for more and more public spending, which means larger and larger deficits for the treasury. The President seems to think an improvement in business will offset any loss in revenue from tax-cutting. He is convinced that the tax cuts will release money that will create jobs and increase production, but he has failed to qualify his statement with a cautionary note that this cannot happen if inflation is resumed and if prices rise, as they inevitably must, when wage costs are substantially increased. Also, the President says flatly there will be no cut in the level of federal spending.

The President implied, moreover, that profits today are near an all-time high. But he neglected to tell his audience that, in the last 12 years, corporate profits have never reached their 1950 peak. Similarly, corporations have been getting in the past couple of years a little over 3 cents profit out of their sales dollar, as compared with 5.3 cents in 1950. So what's the good of citing statistics about recent increases in the national output if such increases are brought about by deficit spending by the government itself, and not by reason of the progress of the private — enterprise system?

THE KEY to the whole economic situation is the breakdown in the profit picture. For although the national output was increased by $150 billion during the last seven years, the profits of American business have stood still during that period. This means that the government has not played a sufficiently constructive part in stimulating the economy or in removing the artificial barriers that impede the growth of the profit system. The Democratic party, which has controlled Congress for the last seven years, has the major responsibility for the failure to legislate on the labor monopoly.

Mr. Kennedy's address would have been reassuring if he had covered all the bases, and if he had dealt with the labor problem. But being a politician and dependent on labor — union votes and campaign contributions, he probably feels he cannot afford to antagonize his political allies. Yet economic recovery of any durable kind is doubtful nowadays because Mr. Kennedy does not venture to speak for all the people or tell them the full story of the economic dangers that really confront them today.

Congressional Elections Marked By Reduced Tensions

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's not normal.

An American election campaign begins soon, for seats in Congress. And there's not an explosion or a deep, distracting emotional disturbance in sight.

History says this can't last. There has been some surging or disquieting situation before each election going all the way back to 1948 when President Truman defeated Thomas E. Dewey.

In the midst of the presidential campaign that year the United States was trying to break the Berlin blockade — not knowing where it would end — which the Russians had begun in the spring.

By the time of the 1950 congressional elections the United States was at war in Korea while here at home the country was being split apart on the Communist issue raised by Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

And, on top of that, just three days before the election a couple of assassins tried to kill Truman.

The Korean War, like a grisly ghost in the background, by the time of the 1952 presidential race, Republicans made it a central issue and Dwight D. Eisenhower promised, if he beat Adlai Stevenson, to go to Korea. He won and went.

There was no foreign crisis during the 1954 congressional campaign—the Korean War was over then—but there was an extraordinary distraction, with a deep emotional undercurrent, here at home.

The census proceedings against McCarthy were being held and, after the elections, resulted in his condemnation by the Senate.

But there was a shocking explosion in the midst of the 1956 presidential contest between Eisenhower and Stevenson. In fact, most of it happened just a few days before the election.

The British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt began, the Hungarians revolted, and Russia moved in and smashed the revolt.

Calm of a kind enveloped the 1958 congressional campaign, but it was far from complete. The Red Chinese were bombarding the offshore islands of the American Ally, Chiang Kai-shek, and no one could be sure of the outcome. There was just a little national uneasiness.

In 1960, except for the developing chaos in the Congo, all the explosions, and there never had been anything like them, burst before the presidential race.

Portugal broke diplomatic relations with Czechoslovakia when the latter country refused to fill an order for machine guns. Portugal blamed Russian influence.

A mass meeting at Lida Benton School discussed fumes from waste released at Brown Paper Mill as a possible cause of damage to property in the southern part of Monroe.

A Racceland, La., sailor was killed as an artillery shell struck the Navy cruiser Augusta stationed in Shanghai, China.

By JIM BISHOP

The twins are four. They are plump little blondes, with tan faces and large blue eyes. There is something especially sweet about little girls. Sweet and nibbly. These are my grandchildren — Pamela and Robin Frechette — and they are identical. Nothing hurts more than for me to say "Hello, Pam" and have the kid point to her little chest and say: "Me Wobbin'."

The dictation is lousy. Robin is a dreamer. Pamela is the old lady of the family. Robby lines for fun; Pam is a worrier with a big conscience. They have a younger brother, Jim, who is now three, and he is a soft sentimentalist with a butch haircut who is easily pushed around. There is an even younger one, Kevin — he of the moon — faced smile with the nose wrinkled and the eyes squinted shut. And, in two weeks, there will be a new one.

Any questions?

Their mother, Ginny, has always loved babies but she is one of the few I know who can romp on the floor with the youngsters without appearing to be condescending. When she reads Winnie the Pooh to them, or the Ugly Duckling and Hansel and Gretel, you can bet that she is as interested in the story as the children.

WHEN Ginny was my little girl, she had yellow hair and big blue eyes. Now, at age 25, her hair has thickened and darkened. Her husband, Charlie Frechette, is a square block of a man with red hair and a disposition like little Jim. Charlie never fights City Hall. For a big fellow, he's so pleasant that I can't imagine anyone wanting to fight him.

The twin girls tend to spoil Kevin. They will take toys from Jim and give them to the little one. When mother gives Kevin a cookie, she says "Say thank you" and the girls say: "He can't. He's a baby." Last week, when Ginny told Pamela to summon Kevin from the backyard, Pam said: "You call him. You're his mother."

The children have an eight-month-old English bulldog named Rory and a Siamese cat named Yum Yum. They entered Rory in a dog show and he came up with first prize. They put him in another show and he bit the judge and got third prize. At the moment, he's the local hero. They cannot understand why he always gets "wibbons, no money."

PAMELA helps to make beds now. She also tries to help her mother in the kitchen. Robin wants to help, but she always gets detoured with mud pies, or a squeaky doll. A few evenings ago, after all hands had climbed out of the tub and into their nighties, their father told them about sin and hell. They listened wide-eyed. When they heard that hell is the place of fire, Jim slapped his thighs and said: "Snokey the Bear says you shouldn't play with matches."

They have been told that a new baby is coming soon. At the last pre-natal examination, the entire tribe accompanied mother to the office of Dr. Albert Higdon. "Well," he said smiling at the twins, "which would you rather have, a brother, a sister or a dog?" Robin glared at him. "We have a dog," she haughtily.

Yesterday, they stopped at our house and I forgot that the Frechette kids do not knock on doors. I was in the bedroom, with a pair of shorts in my hand, when I saw the doorknob turn. I leaped against the door, shouting "No, no!" and managed to jam one foot through the bottom of the shorts.

IT WAS Robin. She had to go to the bathroom. I put trousers on. Then I bowed her in. She asked if I would help her unbutton her shoulder straps. I did. The whole play suit fell to her ankles. She went to the bathroom and came out with a new roll of toilet tissue. "This," she said, "is soggy." "It's what?" I said. She repeated the words. I don't know where she learned "soggy," but she was right. The roll was good and soggy. "Did you drop it in the bowl?" I said. She nodded gravely. "It slipped," she said.

A little later their daddy came in from work and they greeted him with big kisses and identical speeches. "We been berry good all day what did you bring us?" I told them a story about their cousin Stephen.

The next morning, at breakfast, he said he would never ask God for anything again. His mother asked why. "Last night," he said solemnly, "I went into the bathroom and I sat down and I said 'Hey God, shut the door' and he didn't."

The twins didn't think it was funny. They stared at me, and Pam said: "Why didn't he?" Just give me time. There must be an answer to that one . . .

Found Employment As City Guide

By MARTIN E. SEGAL

Young children can be a source of love, gratification or even annoyance. But have you ever thought of them as a source of income?

We got a letter recently telling about a retired man on West Coast, let's call him Mike Ryan, whose fondness for young people led him into a pleasurable and profitable occupation.

Mike was very happy during the first year of his retirement. But he didn't realize how much time he had been spending with his grandchildren until his son was transferred to another state. Then Mike's days seemed empty.

Out of habit and loneliness, Mike Ryan kept returning to the local playground in which he had spent so many happy hours with his grandchildren. The other children knew him — they called him Grams, too — and often entrusted him with their skate keys, their sweaters, their toys. Sometimes they even invited him to join their games.

That's where Mike Ryan got the idea of becoming a baby-sitter — but with a difference. He would show the children all the wonderful places that can be found in a city.

THE NEXT day, with the aid of a map, a city directory, and the columns of a newspaper, he made a list of places and things that would delight most children — and adults.

He visited all these places by himself. He timed the travel to and from; he checked on opening and closing times; he listed admission prices. He conferred with the people who ran the places about special arrangements for groups and about best visiting times.

Then he spoke to his neighbors. They spoke to their friends. Word got around that Mike Ryan, who had such understanding and sympathy for children, would take care of small groups of children in the playground, in homes, and especially on trips around the city.

His first job was taking three children ranging in age from 6 to 9 to the zoo. He had only one bit of trouble, getting them to come home. But as soon as the kids found out that Grams was firm, and that the little nagging tricks they tried on their parents wouldn't work, they became meek as lambs.

MIKE learned that visiting a playground in a different part of the city was a great adventure for children. The slides were the same, the swings were the same, the sandboxes were the same as those in the playground the children knew. But the trip on the bus, the slightly different surroundings, made it fascinating.

Then there were the museums, the boat rides, the ball games, the trips to the docks, and a visit to the circus that the kids never stopped talking about.

Once he got going, Mike typed lists of possible trips and distributed them to the mothers of children in the neighborhood. He listed the costs, too. He charged enough to cover all the expenses of the children — including ice cream and popcorn, if indicated — and his own expenses. He rounded out the figure so that if included a modest amount for himself, in addition to costs.

Today, Mike Ryan has two or three children in his charge almost every day. He averages less than 20 hours of work a week and he earns some much-needed extra income. He's also the best-known and best-liked man in the neighborhood — at least among children.

He's a very busy, very happy man. The people in the neighborhood just don't know how they got along without him before he went into the children — traveling business.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

VIRUSES GET AROUND

Most of us are so interested in our accomplishments in outer space that news about the microscopic world of germs is of secondary importance. Simian virus 40 (SV40) may not be as glamorous as the Tel-star satellite but it has made a number of our top laboratory scientists prick up their ears.

SV40 has emerged as the number one criminal of the microscopic world and is being judged by cancer researchers, vaccine manufacturers, and geneticists.

According to the Medical World News, this delinquent is a troublesome contaminant of certain serums. It is difficult to eliminate because it grows in the tissues used in vaccine making.

It was found in extracts of monkey kidney tissues in which polio and certain respiratory viruses are grown. Serums prepared from these batches contained the unwanted SV40. Vaccine makers are doing an excellent job of eliminating this contaminant.

A virus similar to SV40 has been found in chicken eggs. We eat most of the eggs produced but some are used for making vaccines—another possible source of contamination.

What is wrong with SV40? One study showed it produced malignant tumors in hamsters but nothing comparable to this has been noted in other animals or in humans. Many scientists are burning the midnight oil in cancer research institutes trying to determine whether the virus is a cancer producer. All hope it is not.

On the other hand, SV40 does alter the shape of cultured living human cells growing in a test tube. These cells also develop abnormal nuclei within eight to 14 weeks. In addition, the altered cells begot cells that possess the same changes.

Genetics entered the picture when it was discovered that SV40 cells lost one chromosome, ending up with 45 instead of 46. This explains the changed appearance of the cells but the tissues were not altered in any way. The cells were not hurt or killed nor did they become malignant.

HAMSTRING MUSCLES

A. P. writes Is there any way an old person can strengthen his legs so he can go up and down stairs more easily?

REPLY

Yes. Walk more and do exercises to strengthen the hamstring muscles that bend and lend support to the knees. Sit on the edge of a table, chair, or bed with the legs hanging down. Ask someone to hold the ankles and apply slight resistance while the knees are straightened and bent back to the starting position. Tie a weight to the ankles if no one can assist you in this type of resistance exercise.

HEPATITIS VACCINE

H. S. writes If, as you say, no vaccine has been found for hepatitis, why do physicians give shots to persons who have been in contact with a case?

REPLY

Because gamma globulin usually contains a small amount of immune bodies. It is not enough to prevent the disease in a person who is susceptible and picks up some of the viruses.

CUSSING NOT AN ILLNESS

M. O. writes Why do some people use cuss words whenever they talk? Are they trying to make an impression or is this a sickness?

REPLY

This is not a medical question. I assume these people use such words because of habit or their limited vocabulary.

SPREAD OF BRONCHITIS

G. B. writes Is chronic bronchitis contagious?

REPLY

Not as a rule, particularly when it is caused by smoking. All exception is chronic bronchitis caused by active tuberculosis.

Today's Health Hint—

The pictures will be hung by 9:30 a.m. Friday, August 31, and may be removed at 5 p.m. that day. The paintings will not be judged but will be viewed by several hundred persons that day.

Elderly Widow Lives Off Land For Four Days

OLD FORT, N.C. (AP)—A 74-year-old widow who disappeared from a hospital picnic in this mountainous area four days ago was found alive Sunday, leaning against a tree half a mile up a mountain.

A doctor said she was in remarkably good condition and apparently had lived on wild berries and leaves.

She was located just before the search was to be called off. Searchers said Verna Ammons of Maryville, Tenn., was tired and hungry, but in very good spirits, when she was found on Young's Ridge.

Mrs. Ammons disappeared from a picnic of patients from the Highlands Hospital in nearby Asheville. Searchers had combed the area daily since then.

George Brown, chief of the McDowell County rescue squad, said Mrs. Ammons "wasn't saying much when we found her, but she was wanting to get back to the hospital."

Brown and other volunteers obtained milk from a nearby farm home and fed Mrs. Ammons. Then she was returned to the hospital.

Physicians would not disclose the reason Mrs. Ammons was hospitalized originally.

Godfrey's bid of 75 cents per pound for the 565 pound bale of cotton for a total price of $423.75 was high.

The DPL cotton was grown by Allen Gilmore of Extension and ginned at Buie's Gin at Fort Necessity on July 31. The Winnsboro Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with local merchants sponsored the auction.

St. Maurice Man Killed In Car Wreck

WINNFELD (Special) — A St. Maurice man was killed early Sunday morning after his car overturned twice on U. S. Highway 71 near St. Maurice.

Albert Bishop, 35, was pronounced dead from a broken neck on arrival at Natchitoches General Hospital.

According to the investigating state trooper of Winnfield, Bishop, sole occupant of the vehicle, apparently lost control of the car which dropped off the highway on the right, crossed back over to the left, made two complete rolls and came to rest on its top at about 12:35 a.m.

His body was taken to First National Funeral Home in Alexandria.

Festival Air Show Scheduled At Jonesville

JONESVILLE (Special) — Jonesville Municipal Airport will be in a buzz of activity on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 1, when the air show at the second annual Louisiana Soybean Festival gets underway, according to Mrs. Raymond Mason, chairman of the event.

Jumpers of the Ark-La-Tex Sky Divers Club will be testing their chutes and everybody be hoping that they will open as expected, and the wind will not be too brisk, she said.

"We'll be watching the most outstanding jumpers in the country perform jumps with smoke, hesitation jumps and such amazing feats as the baton pass," she said.

Cecil Ross, Shreveport stunt flyer, will take up his fast little plane to show that "aerial acrobatics are definitely show-stoppers."

"Perhaps, she added, "he'll show us some things like the Split snap rolls, hammerhead stalls, loops and other maneuvers."

The show is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 1, marking one of the many events of the three day festival which will be held August 30 through Sept. 1.

in-law spent much of Sunday lounging by the pool of the actor's home, tossing around a football, and enjoying second helpings from the Lawford's well-stocked larder.

AWAY FROM MOB
Film stars Doris Day, Janet Leigh and a bikini-clad Sue Lyon (the films "Lolita") watched the President's swimming jaunt, but weren't in the presidential party and stayed clear of the mob scene which ensued.

It started when the President, apparently without prior warning to his security guards, emerged from Lawford's beachfront home and set out for the surf 100 yards across the sand.

The house fronts on a public beach at nearby Santa Monica. Some 100 bathers, who had been waiting for hours for just such an appearance, let out a wild cheer.

The cheers brought other bath-ers from out of the sand, from under blankets, from everywhere. They closed in on the smiling chief executive, many trying to shake his hand. Affably, he obliged for many.

He dived under a big breaker. Most of the throng followed him in — including one fully dressed woman and one fully dressed news photographer.

For 15 minutes he swam vigorously. The crowd swam with him. The Secret Service, late in catching up, watched helplessly on the beach.

The guards didn't breathe easily until a hastily summoned life guard patrol boat cruised up near the swimming President.

As he emerged from the water, the mob scene was repeated. By this time there were 1,000 persons there.

It was a climax to a day of relaxation for the President. A rocking chair was delivered to the Lawford home just before his arrival. Mostly, the President just sat around the pool. Occasionally he got up to toss a football with Lawford.

It also was a day of good home cooking and plenty of it. Mrs. Delia Bradley, the Lawford's Negro cook, said the President had second helpings of creamed chicken, deluxe on rice rings, vichy-soupe soup, hot fudge sundaes, plus an added bit of Polish ham and Boston baked beans.

Earlier the President attended Mass at the nearby Church of the Good Shepherd. Usher Larry McHugh said the President dropped a $100 bill in the collection box.

"Even in Beverly Hills," said McHugh, "this is noticed."

Paper Notes State Expenses

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Personal service expenses in the office of the Custodian of Voting Machines rose $134,000 between 1956 and 1960, according to The Times-Picayune.

In a dispatch from its Baton Rouge bureau Sunday, it said the office's budget rose from $368,032 in 1956 when James McLeMore headed the office under the late Gov. Earl K. Long to $502,604 in 1960, when Douglas Fowler took over under Gov. Jimmie H. Davis.

During the same period, the newspaper said travel expenses climbed from $5,952 to $32,631.

Radiation Belt Cited As Danger

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — A new and perhaps menacing radiation belt is in the atmosphere around the earth — put there, scientists say, by a United States high-altitude nuclear test blast in July.

Patman Urges Control Over Foundations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., said today the time has come for Congress to consider ways to control tax-exempt foundations.

He said in a speech prepared for delivery to the House that the foundations have reached "massive, undreamed of proportions." He added that some have assumed functions "wholly foreign to the object for which they were granted tax exemption and, in my opinion, at variance with the public interest."

Patman, who is chairman of the House Small Business Committee, issued Saturday the second part of an interim staff study of tax-exempt foundations.

The report is based on a study of 524 large and small foundations out of the more than 45,000 in existence. Patman said net worth of the 524 foundations in 1960 was nearly $10 billion, 23 per cent more than the capital funds of the nation's 50 largest commercial banks.

In his speech Patman singled out for special mention the Ford Foundation and one established by Howard Hughes.

He charged that heirs of Edsel Ford, who died in 1943, used the Ford Foundation to save family control of the auto firm. "If not for the foundation device," Patman declared, "they would have had to sell stock to the public long before they did in order to pay estate taxes."

Patman said that at the same time the United States was trying to reduce the flow of dollars abroad in 1961, the Ford Foundation exported $33 million in loans to foreign corporations and governments.

A spokesman for the foundation in New York said Patman's "assertions with respect to the Ford Foundation's use of its funds are too far-fetched to warrant detailed comment."

Haast, 52, was rushed to Variety Children's Hospital and given massive doses of serum. It was his 79th snake bite but his first by a king cobra.

Survivor Tells Of Tragedy In Which 18 Died

QUINCY, Fla. (AP) — "I didn't know what happened at first. I heard a couple of them yell out 'help me' and they all tried to grab hold of Mr. Bouie. I was by myself and when I came up out of the water I was by the boat and grabbed hold of it. I don't really remember much after that."

Those are the words of Jerome Maples, a small, shy 11-year-old who is the only survivor of a boating tragedy Saturday that took the lives of 17 children and their Sunday school superintendent, Joseph Bouie, 25. Seven of the children were from the same family.

Skin divers who recovered Bouie's body from Lake Talquin said one child was in his arms, another was on his back with arms clutched around his neck, a third held tightly around his waist and a fourth clung to one of his legs.

The tragedy sent the St. John community, a tobacco growing area 25 miles west of Tallahassee, into mourning. The victims were from the Blessed Hope Missionary Baptist Church which suspended its Sunday service.

The drownings occurred during a church picnic outing attended by about 45 Negroes. Bouie was trying to give the children a ride in a 14-foot wooden boat with a 7½ horsepower engine. The stern of the boat dipped under the water and the occupants were tossed into the lake about 300 feet from shore.

Two white fishermen passing the scene rescued the Maples boy. There were other boats at the landing but nobody there knew how to operate them.

Ester and Mattie Mae Watson lost 7 of their 12 children. They were J. B., 14; Delores, 12; Esther, 11; Leonard, 9; Bernard, 8; Jennifer, 6; and Terry, 5.

Others in addition to Bouie who drowned were Rosa Battle, 10; Gleana Battle, 6; Louis Gordon, 12; Dorothy Baker, 10; Mathilda Green, 10; Emanuel Green, 9; Ruby Green, 11; Queen Gremin, 10; Annie Young, 8; and Rosa May Huntley, 8.

Cambodia To Seek Neutral Guarantee

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodian chief of state, is expected early this week to call for a 14-nation conference to guarantee his nation's neutrality.

Sihanouk told a news conference Friday he would propose such a conference to Thailand and South Viet Nam, to be held in a neutral nation.

Sihanouk charged a detachment of Thai troops crossed into Cambodian territory Wednesday.

"To the subsequent embarrassment of our American friends, these Thai troops were accompanied by 10 American advisors," he charged.

Cambodia severed relations with Thailand last fall, and Cambodia accuses Thailand and South Viet Nam of constant border violations.

"I hope Washington will persuade its Thai allies to cease these dangerous provocations," the prince said.

He said the proposed conference would consist of the same 14 nations that recently concluded an agreement on Laotian neutrality.

"All Cambodia wants is that its present frontiers should be guaranteed," he said, "although it could lay historical claims to more territory."

The Cambodian government announced Saturday that Thai troops had withdrawn 200 yards across the border but that one company of Cambodian troops was facing four companies of Thai troops at gunpoint.

"There is every advantage in the United States removing all their military aid, including weapons, equipment and personnel from all three countries in Southeast Asia; that is, Cambodia, South Viet Nam and Thailand," Sihanouk said, "thereby encouraging really peaceful relations in this part of the world."

"If the United States really wants peace in Indochina then they should remove all the little toys they have so lavishly distributed and which have proved dangerous not only to the countries that received them but to the whole of Southeast Asia and to the world outside."

Despite the tense border situation, the sports-minded prince continues almost daily participation in basketball, volleyball and soccer games.

The government reported that Chinese Communist Foreign Minister Marshal Chen Yi stands solidly behind Cambodia in its quarrel with its U.S.-backed neighbors.

Cambodia receives most of its arms and military equipment from the United States, although the Cambodian army is trained and advised by a French military assistance group.

York Air Conditioning Going Into New Home

York Air Conditioning and Heating systems are going into more and more quality homes in the Twin City area. The dealer for York is Miller's Heating and Air Conditioning, 711 North Eleventh street, West Monroe.

Contractors Russell and Hazel are building a home now (in picture above) which will have York Air Conditioning from Miller's, a guarantee of all - season comfort.

In addition to York Air Conditioning, the home will have such features as built-in Tappan range, built-in Tappan Dishwasher and Stereo record players, new Armstrong Corlon Floor, a built-in enclosed rock garden, and also an enclosed front porch.

WATCH for this home in the yearly Parade of Homes. Jewel Miller, owner of the air conditioning firm, says many people don't realize that central air conditioning is quite often cheaper than window units when it comes to paying utility bills.

The machinists, Transport

Workers of America, all AFL-CIO

members, threatened joint action against Eastern.

Airline President Malcolm MacIntyre, after announcing the planned resumption of full service, brushed off the threats saying,

"I've known pressure. If the machinists strike, we would have no alternative but to get an injunction."

The airline plans to resume what MacIntyre called a full schedule on a streamlined basis with service not expected to be on the same level as before the June 23 strike.

MacIntyre said the June 22 working force of 18,000 would be cut and that 4,000 to 5,000 employees in all categories would not be recalled Sept. 13.

He said perhaps one or two thousand of these would be recalled about the middle of December when heavy winter traffic is expected.

Eastern is bargaining individually with the Flight Engineers International Association, in addition to accepting pilots' bids and outside applications to fill the engineer vacancies.

MacIntyre said more than 10 per cent of the engineers had accepted the airline's settlement offer and returned to work.

The strike, which MacIntyre said had been costing EAL $250,000 daily, erupted over whether pilots or engineers would fill the third seat in the cockpit when jetliner crews were reduced from four.

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Martha Raye proved what a real trouper she was at the Westbury Music Fair opening of "Wildcat." The audience, delighted by her singing, dancing and comedy capers, didn't know that both of Martha's ankles were painfully injured and she had to be helped on and off stage. Between scenes, a doctor administered codeine to dull the agony so she could finish her performance. . . . Michael's Pub, one of New York's most successful restaurants — and a charming one, too, will be sold for $170,000 late this month to a restaurant syndicate. Michael Pearman, who dreamed up the novel dining spot, will remain as host at least for the rest of the year.

Nelson Riddle has completed his musical score for "Will," the show based on the life of humorist Will Rogers, and is hoping Andy Griffith will play the title role. . . . Ashley - Steiner pulled a coup by signing British director Jack Cardiff after 10 telephone calls to him in Switzerland. He did "Sons and Lovers" and "The Lion" . . . Bobbs-Merrill is publishing Merriman Smith's new book this fall, and wouldn't you like to know why the title was changed in mid-stream? Originally, the famed White House reporter called it "Washington Unmasked," but when it hits the book stores it will be titled "The Good New Days" . . . Hollywood is gabbing about a "terrific feud" between Dick Van Dyke and Paul Lynde.

The mail pouring in on the subject of Marilyn Monroe's death is amazing in volume and content. Many of her fans — and some people who knew her in life — want an investigation above and beyond what the Beverly Hills police have conducted. They simply aren't satisfied with the brief autopsy report that was issued in California (not that the California authorities care what Marilyn's fans think) and they pose some intelligent questions.

Example: "If the woman described as Marilyn's 'housekeeper' really was a housekeeper, why was her bedroom such a mess? It was a small house and should have been easy to keep tidy." . . . And "Why was Marilyn's door locked that night when she didn't usually lock it?" "If she were just trying to get to sleep, and took the overdose of pills accidentally, why was the light on? Usually people sleep better in the dark." . . . Almost all the letters mention the doctor's "odd prescription" to Marilyn to go take a ride to the beach when she called him to say she was nervous, and many ask questions about Mrs. Eunice Murray. For instance: "What time did Mrs. Murray go to bed? When she awoke at 3 a.m. and went to check on Marilyn, was she in her night clothes? What was she wearing when the doctor arrived and broke into the bedroom — night clothes, or regular apparel? Why call the doctor in the middle of the night just because Marilyn didn't answer her knock? "If Marilyn was accustomed to taking barbiturates to put her to sleep, it's quite possible that she could have slept through an explosion wasn't there some other reason why Mrs. Murray decided to call the doctor?" . . . And, "Why did the first doctor have to call the second doctor before calling the police? Any doctor, even a psychiatrist, knows a dead person when he sees one — especially when rigor mortis has set in and there are marks of lividity on the surface of the face and body. Why the consultation? Why the big time gap in such a small town? Mrs. Murray gets worried at about 3 a.m., and it's almost 6 a.m. before the police get to the scene."

I can't answer any of those questions, but I share the feeling of my correspondents that the real story hasn't been told — not by a long shot.

Singer Joe Williams and Harry "Sweets" Edison have ended their 18-month association, but not because of any disagreement. It was simply a matter of finances — there aren't enough gigs around these days for that combination of very expensive fellows. . . . The film "Lolita" has taken in $3,000,000 in its first 150 engagements, making it MGM's biggest continuous run attraction since "Blackboard Jungle" seven years ago. Obviously the paying public likes movies about teen-agers with far out ideas.

Benny Goodman's right hand man, Larry Meeks, was rushed to N. Y. University Hospital. Friends say he's suffering from too much excitement, overwork and nerves as the result of Benny's Russian tour. He didn't go with the band — he stayed in the U. S. "coordinating details" — but the pressure got him down. Benny, on the other hand, came back from Khrushchevland looking simply great and full of smiles.

One of Broadway's best choreographers was a sad sight outside a 52nd St. musician's hangout the other night. She must have drowned a lot of sorrows at the bar, because it took two escorts to hold her up — like a rag doll — as she made her exit. . . . Barbara Hutton's party for 400 or so in the Casbah of Tangier was quite a swingin' affair. Most of the entertainers came out of local pads, but Babe obviously didn't quite trust the local food. She served foie gras from Strasbourg, lobster from Spain, salmon from Scotland and ham from England — all flown in for the bash, of course.

Eddie Fisher's ever-lovin' manager, that paragon of truth—Milton Blackstone — must be fit to be tied over Eddie Cantor's interview with a TV columnist just published. For over a decade, truthful Milton and his boyishly truthful client have been telling the press that Fisher was "discovered" by Cantor at Grossinger's in 1949. Now, in a confessional mood, the comedian says the whole thing was contrived for publicity and "Milton Blackstone practically shoved him down my throat. . . . I wasn't impressed by him."

Okay, Milton would like to say a few words about Elizabeth Taylor?

Speedboat Record Try Proves Futile

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Memphis' attempt to set a new speedboat record on the Mississippi River from New Orleans to St. Louis broke down about 35 river miles north of Memphis Sunday.

The three-man crew on the 16-foot catamaran gave up after one of the two 75-horsepower outboard engines broke down about 35 river miles north of Memphis Sunday. It was the second breakdown of the day. An hour was lost when the other engine failed near Helena, Ark., at about 5:30 a.m. and they had to stop at a sandbar to make repairs.

The split-hull red and white boat had covered some 670 river miles when the second engine failure ended the race a 12:40 p.m. near Richardson's Landing, Tenn.

The three crewmen were R. N. Cioff of New Orleans and W. L. Tedford and Ray Neal, both of Little Rock. The catamaran was to be loaded into a truck and carted back to Little Rock.

"We were going great," said said Cioff. "We started at New Orleans at 2 Saturday afternoon and got through the toughest part—the night hours—in fine shape. Then mechanical failures put us out of business."

"We could have made it to St. Louis in 24 or 25 hours with no mechanical trouble," he added. "And we still would have beaten the record if we hadn't had that second breakdown."

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A man was fatally mauled by what he said was a shark, while fishing in waist deep water in the Gulf of Mexico Sunday.

Hans Fix, about 40, of McAllen, Tex., died shortly after the fish almost severed his right leg, but was conscious when rescuers pulled him from the water.

Bob Lauer of Harlingen, Tex., was swimming a short distance from Fix and heard him scream. "The water was boiling around him," he said.

"As I pulled him from the water he said a shark hit him once on the leg and then again," Lauer said.

2 Young Brothers Market First Crop

Two young brothers entered the watermelon growing industry this year, and recently have been offering their products for sale at a roadside stand about six miles south of Monroe on Highway 165. They are Kenneth Sullivan, 4, and Hersell Ray Sullivan Jr., 8, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hersell Sullivan.

The stand where their melons are on display, is located about 200 feet from their home, and only a short walk from the watermelon patch.

ACREAGE

The brothers planted about a fifth of an acre this year, but are planning on about an acre of melons next year.

Varieties range from Black Diamond, Dixie Queen, and Stone Mountain, to Charleston Gray.

The boys handled most of the chores involved in growing the melons, but their mother said she and their father helped some.

Almost all of the melons started ripening about the same time, so there was a big supply for sale at the roadside stand.

BUSINESS

Business varied considerably on different days, but in the first three days of their selling venture, they took in $8.45, and they figured they had enough melons to last through another week.

The youngsters plan to put the proceeds from sales in the bank, and said Hersell Ray, "My Daddy said he would match every dollar I put in the bank."

They plan to continue raising watermelons every year and save the money for college expenses.

Hersell Ray said, "We're planning on an acre next year."

Mrs. Sullivan observed, "They'll be making plans for the rest of the year. They always wanted to know from their daddy what they could do to make money, and this is what he suggested."

HOW-TO-DO-IT

Recreation Data Supplied By Gov't

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department is broadening its "how-to-do-it" informational activities to include recreation.

The agency is well known for its countless books, bulletins, pamphlets on various phases of farming, homemaking, nutrition and marketing.

Now that the Kennedy administration is stressing the possibility of developing opportunities for recreational facilities in rural areas as a new source of income, the department has prepared and issued a brochure outlining ways for farmers to get into this new activity.

MANY TIPS

The pamphlet gives many valuable tips on how to turn woodlands into camping grounds, picnic areas, hunting preserves, and the like.

The brochure says there are not nearly enough facilities to take care of all the people who want to use them. Improved transportation systems are expected to give them even greater mobility in their search for outdoor recreation.

The department says small landowners can play a big part in filling this need by participating in it as a business venture. Providing campgrounds and picnic areas is seen as only a part of the picture. Campers and picnickers purchase food, gasoline, souvenirs, fishing tackle, bait, camper supplies and other products.

They rent boats, motors, ski equipment and the like. They go to movies, roller skate, play golf and tennis, attend fairs and festivals. Thus, the whole community benefits from having privately owned recreational facilities in the area.

The pamphlet points out there are two general types of camp-

Needles Shed By Pine Trees

By J. J. JOYCE JR.
Ouachita Parish County Agent

I had an opportunity to check my pine trees, and the needles are beginning to shed for the fall. The pine needles remain on the trees, if they become fully mature, for about two years.

You will note on your pine trees that the needles are shedding on the limbs closer to the trunk, or the trunk end of the limb. This is just natural so don't be alarmed. As long as the end of the limb is green this is this year's growth and the tree is healthy. If this year's growth starts dying then this is the time to start worrying about your pine trees.

ELECTROSTATIC DUSTER

There has been electrostatic duster equipment developed. Some is in use in the state and one or two salesmen are calling on people. This equipment is attached to dusters where it electrifies the material and causes it to stick to a plant much more readily than the old conventional type.

The experiment stations in Louisiana have some that they are trying in an observation test. The Experiment Stations of North Carolina have done some work with this electrostatic duster and the indications there are that two or three times more dust is deposited on the plant surface that compared with the conventional type.

The charge on the particles is soon lost after it contacts the plant and the dust washes off just as easily as if applied with the conventional duster. This machine works effectively at all relative humidities and field temperatures, but seems to work best at high humidity. There is an indication that this machine will be able to reduce the amount of poison used to control insects in the fields. However, its use in the agriculture field is relatively new and we will have to have more research with it in order to determine its value.

Many persons this time of the year are going on vacation. Always carry a snake bite kit in your year. Also keep one at home. The kit should be taken on hunting and fishing trips and other outings in the woods. If you happen to be one of the unfortunate being snake bit, apply a tourniquet above the bite. Loosen it for one minute every fifteen minutes. Open the wound with a sharp instrument and suck the poison from it with a suction device or with your mouth.

Have the injured person lie down and apply an ice pack to the wound if possible. Then take him to a doctor or hospital where anti-venom treatment can be administered.

DETAILED OUTLINES

Detailed outlines for developing camp plans are given in the booklet. It gives many suggestions for selecting the proper site, with regard to roads, streams and lakes, presence of insects and poisonous plants and the like.

It cautions the farmer to inquire about state and local regulations that would affect a recreational area. Some areas have zoning laws which prescribe the type of development that would be allowed.

It also cautions that there will be problems, including vandalism, theft, fire hazards, trash, toilet odor and insects. It gives tips on how to deal with some of these.

The department's Forest Service has started a research program in forest recreation for the purpose of gaining greater insight into the problems of meeting public demands for outdoor recreation.

A copy of the booklet, entitled "Forest Recreation for Profit," Agriculture bulletin No. 265, may be obtained from the Forest Service, The U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C.

REDS EXECUTE SPY

LONDON (UPI)—The Communist New China news agency said Sunday a Nationalist Chinese spy has been executed for trying to blow up a ship bound from Canton to Macao. The agency, in a dispatch in English received here, said the alleged agent was condemned by the higher people's court of Kwangtung province.

Weekly Markets

COTTON

Spot cotton trading in the south-central area improved slightly during the past week as prices continued to skid, reports the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Reported purchases on the New Orleans, Little Rock, Greenwood and Memphis markets last week totaled 49,400 bales, which is 7,800 bales more than the previous week.

Domestic mill demand centered on the medium and higher white grades. Inquiries were more numerous last week and shippers sold an increased volume for forward delivery were small in volume. Demand is not expected to show much improvement until foreign growths are marketed.

Middling 1-1/4 inch cotton lost $2.25 a bale at Memphis last week, $2.50 at Greenwood and $1.25 at Little Rock, but held steady at New Orleans. Closing quotations on August 16 were posted at 34.50 cents a lb. at New Orleans, 34.75 at Memphis, 35 cents at Greenwood and 35.50 cents at Little Rock.

The 15-market average price for base quality cotton declined for the seventh consecutive week, and was the lowest since early September last season. The August 16 average of 33.34 cents a lb. for middling inch cotton on August 16 was 83 cents a bale lower than a week earlier but $1 a bale higher than the corresponding day last year.

Cotton maturity was accelerated by hot, dry conditions in the south-central area. First ginnings were reported in many communities in south Louisiana and south Mississippi increased steadily. Hand picking is generally by "on farm" labor with $2 per cwt., plus hauling being offered.

A small volume of new-crop cotton sold at prices ranging from 75 cents to $3.50 a bale above applicable loan rates.

LOUISIANA LIVESTOCK

SAYS ECONOMIST

Agriculture Still Leader In State

Agriculture still is the No. 1 basic industry in Louisiana and what happens in the rural areas effect the rest of the state, reports Walter D. Curtis, economic specialist with LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

Hog Raising Potential In State Is Cited

Persons attending the Rapides Swine Association Field Day near Cheneyville recently, were told that swine raising in Louisiana is a potential billion-dollar industry.

Kenneth Bowen of Lafayette, representative of a packing company, told some 200 growers that the potential exists because people are spending from 30 to 35 million dollars of Louisiana money each year to consume pork products and this state is the highest pork consuming state per capita in the United States.

He said the goal of persons interested in the swine industry is to build the industry so that the money will be kept at home, new jobs will be created and small farmers will be able to supplement their income.

REASONS CITED

Bowen said there are five reasons why the state's deficient swine production can be raised to meet consumer needs. They included:

1. The existence of a sufficient labor supply on the farms, 2. Existing lines of communication with farm agencies, 3. The small capital outlay needed to get into the business, 4. The limited amount of space needed for production, and 5. A guaranteed market at a higher price.

The association's field day was held on the Branch Z. Smith farm and included tours of corn production fields and Smith's swine-growing operation.

Of interest to many growers was the tour of hybrid breeding and production fields at Ingleswood Plantation near Alexandria. They were shown how hybrid corns were grown and the influence of various production practices on corn.

WORK SEEN

A tour of the corn varieties and fertilization research plots at Louisiana State University-Alexandria revealed work being done by the university on corn production.

In a tour of Smith's farrowing house operation, Ed Guillot, manager of the swine operations at the Graugnard Farm in St. James Parish, demonstrated methods of cutting navel cords and castrating young pigs. He also discussed the relation of iron shots to creep feeding.

A. D. Fitzgerald, swine specialist with the LSU Cooperative Extension Service, urged the farmers at this point to raise their own feeder pigs.

He said that, by raising their own pigs, farmers are able to use better quality pigs, they can

Good Planting Practice Boost To Cane Crop

Sugarcane growers will harvest a better crop next fall if they follow sound planting practices this year, reports LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

The service said that even after a severe freeze such as the one occurring last January, stands will be better where good practices were followed during planting time.

Farmers should begin with a well-prepared seedbed (properly "rotary tilled" and packed), open planting furrows at uniform depths and then select the proper variety for their particular soil types and needs.

Place the seed pieces at the rate of two stalks and a lap (10 per cent) and well above the level of the water furrow. Seed cane should be free from mosaic, progeny of heat-treated cane, and as much borer damage as possible.

Chlordane should be applied for control of soil insects and soil animals, then the seed covered with not more than four inches of packed soil.

The next step is to roll or cultivate tops of rows, apply chemicals for control of weeds and grass and open quarter drains to facilitate good drainage.

These practices alone do not guarantee maximum profits, but adequate stands are necessary for maximum yields. Recommended practices, along with favorable weather conditions, will result in a better crop and more profits.

Webworm Moths Control Tips Are Presented

To combat fall webworm moths which are appearing in pecan trees throughout the state, the LSU Cooperative Extension Service recommends they be burned out with a kerosene-soaked cloth torch tied to the end of a long cane or pole.

They can also be controlled by using two pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT to 100 gallons of water for spraying.

QUAKE SHAKES JAPAN

TOKYO (UPI)—A light earthquake shook the northern section of Miyagi prefecture, about 200 miles north of Tokyo, early Sunday, according to a report by the Japanese weather station in Sendai city. There were no reports of any casualties or property damage.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results—here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids—without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H®. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

Four Games Today Launch LBB Dixie World Series

West Monroe Hosts Little Boys All Week

Eight Little Boys Baseball all-star teams, representing the finest in the southland, go into action in West Monroe this afternoon and tonight to decide the world's champion of LBB in their seventh annual Dixie World Series.

The St. Bernard Parish All-Stars of Arabi, the Louisiana champions, appear against Mississippi's champions from Meridian in the 1 o'clock opener at West Monroe's Little Boys Park on North Seventh street.

Seats to accommodate more than 2,000 fans have been installed around the playing field, and good weather prevailing, upwards of 20,000 paid admissions are expected. The series record is 16-100 that turned out last August at Lookout Mountain, Tenn.

Cayce, S. C., is spotlighted in the 3 p.m. game as the South Carolina champions take first shot at the defending world's champions from Rossville, Ga.

The night session matches Central Park of Birmingham, Ala., against Myrtle Grove of Pensacola, Fla., at 6 o'clock, and the host South All-Stars of West Monroe go against Rivermont of Chattanooga, Tenn., at 8 o'clock.

Games Tuesday afternoon at 1 and 3 o'clock will match first round losers in this double elimination tournament. The night contest Tuesday will match the first round winners at 6 and 8 o'clock.

After four-game rounds Monday and Tuesday, the tournament will narrow to three games Wednesday, two Thursday, and one Friday, and possibly one Saturday although the tournament could come to a close Friday.

The 128 participating Little Boys of the eight - to - 12 - year - old event fed on barbecue in a get-acquainted welcoming event at the Boy Scouts' Camp Ki-Ro-Li near here Saturday night before bedding down for the night in air conditioned dormitories of Northeast Louisiana State College.

Monroe and West Monroe got first official looks at the collection of young athletes in this morning's big street parade in which they were joined by high school bands, Shriners, and rodeo performers of the West Monroe Riding Club, plus city officials and national and local leaders of the Little Boys program.

Louisiana State Comptroller Roy Thieriot, speaking briefly at the Sunday night barbecue, told the Little Boys, "Competition is the basic greatness of America, good sportsmanship is a basic element of good citizenship, and self-discipline is the key to good character."

"You don't have to win them all to be a champion, but you become a champion in the eyes of those observing you grow into manhood by the way you play the game."

REDS, ANGELS UNDER FIRE

Dodgers, Yanks Get Chance To Cull Some Flag Threats

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

This could be the week of decision in both major league races—the week in which the Los Angeles Dodgers kiss goodbye to at least one pursuer and the New York Yankees lower the boom on the Los Angeles Angels.

The Dodgers get their chance tonight when they can open up a 7½ game lead over the Cincinnati Reds and leave the San Francisco Giants as their only real threat.

Then on Tuesday night the Yankees open a three-game series in Los Angeles with the opportunity to build substantially to their 4½ game margin over the Angels. To remain challengers in a practical sense, the Angels must win two of the three games.

The Dodgers increased their lead over San Francisco to 3½ games and over Cincinnati to 6½ Sunday when a five-run ninth-inning rally gave them a 5-1 victory over the Reds. The Yankees, meanwhile, blitzed the Kansas City Athletics, 21-7, to maintain their 4½ game bulge over the Angels.

Joey Jay shut out the Dodgers for eight innings but Frank Howard opened the ninth with a game-tying homer and the panic was on. A walk, a sacrifice and safe hits by Maury Wills and Jim Gilliam produced the tie-breaking run and then Willie Davis wrapped it up with a three-run inside-the-park homer.

Don Drysdale, pitching his strongest game in more than two weeks, fired a three - hitter and won his 22nd game of the campaign.

HOWARD, MANTLE STAR
Elston Howard and Mickey Mantle drove in a total of 15 runs in the Yankees' 20-hit barrage at Kansas City. Howard drove in eight runs with two homers, a triple and a single while Mantle knocked in seven with a homer, double and single.

The Milwaukee Braves walloped the Giants, 13-8, the Philadelphia Phillies edged out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-2, the St. Louis Cardinals downed the New York Mets, 10-5, and the Chicago Cubs defeated the Houston Colts, 4-3, in the other NL games.

The Angels scored a 5-2 victory over the Washington Senators, the Baltimore Orioles shaded the Cleveland Indians, 6-5, the Minnesota Twins swept the Boston Red Sox, 4-2 and 7-4, and the Detroit Tigers gained an 8-3 triumph after losing to the Chicago White Sox, 11-5, in other AL games.

AARON HITS TWO HOMERS

Hank Aaron hit his 32nd and 33rd homers and Del Crandall and Lee Maye hit one each for the Braves offsetting two San Francisco homers by Willie McCovey and one by Felipe Alou.

Ruben Amaro's ninth-inning single drove in Don Demeter with the decisive run for the Phillies who dealt Pittsburgh relief ace Roy Face his fourth setback.

Lindy McDaniel, making his first start since May 15, 1960, went eight innings for his third victory supported by an 11-hit Cardinals attack that included homers by Hal Maxvill and Julian Javier. The Mets suffered their 10th straight loss.

Bob Buhl squared his record at 9-9 when the Cubs made a three-run seventh-inning rally stand up for their victory at Houston.

CHANCE STRIKES OUT FIVE

Rookie Dean Chance pitched a five-hitter and struck out five to win his 11th game for the Angels. The Angels kayoted Tom Cheney with a four-run, five-hit sixth-inning rally.

Shortstop Woodie Held's two-run error in the sixth presented the Orioles with their winning margin and led to the Indians' 31st loss in 43 games. Jim Gentile and Whitey Herzog homered for the Orioles.

Jim Kaat pitched a five-hitter and did not permit the Red Sox to hit a ball out of the infield after the fourth inning to win his 13th game for the Twins. Then Harmon Killebrew drove in four runs with a homer and a single to complete the Minnesota sweep.

The White Sox won their opener as Charlie Maxwell drove in six runs with a grand slam homer and two-run double but Billy Bruton's grand slam homer paced an attack that brought Hank Aguirre his 11th victory for Detroit in the nightcap.

Sanders Collects In Palmer Style

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—Arnold Palmer didn't play in the St. Paul Open golf tournament, but one of his professional colleagues borrowed a Palmer-patented finish to win the $30,000 event.

Doug Sanders sailed to a three-stroke victory with a 65 Sunday for a 72-hole total of 269 — 19 under par.

He went into the last round knotted with Johnny Pott and Frank Wharton for the lead. Sanders birdied two of the first four holes Sunday and still couldn't pull away from his young rivals. So he did what Palmer has done so often in the past; Sanders kept the pressure applied with three more birdies on the next four holes. By that time Pott and Wharton had fallen far back, and going into the last nine only Dave Hill and Gary Player remained in the picture. They trailed by three strokes.

Handy Guide For Removing Dirt And Spots

Children don't mean to be messy. But they often are.

A day in school provides them with the chance to get an education and loads of opportunities to get an assortment of spots and stains on their clothes. Mud, crayons, ink, milk, paint, soup, catsup, gum, even blood from skinned knees are typical.

Mothers who face the chore of getting such stains out of children's clothes will find their task easier by following these stain removal techniques, recommended by the Maytag Home Service Department:

BLOOD: Soak garment in cold water for at least 30 minutes. If stain persists, soak in solution of three tablespoons of household ammonia to one gallon lukewarm water for 30 minutes or longer. If stain is still there, rub in a detergent, then launder, using a bleach safe for the fabric.

CHOCOLATE AND COCOA: Soak stain in cold water. Then pretreat stain with liquid detergent and launder in as hot water as is safe for fabric. Remove any grease stain that remains with trichloroethane solvent (available as non-flammable Energine). If colored stain remains, sponge with hydrogen peroxide, rinse and launder.

CRAYON: Loosen stain with kitchen shortening, apply detergent, working it in until stain outline is removed. Launder as usual. It may be necessary to repeat the process. In that case, pretreat with a liquid household cleaner, such as Handy Andy, Mr. Clean, or Tectex. If stain persists, use a bleach safe for the fabric. On wool or silk, sponge stain with trichloroethane, rinse and launder.

INK: Some permanent ink cannot be removed. For other types, run cold water through stain until no more colors come out. Rub in lemon juice and detergent and allow to stand for five minutes. Then launder. If stain persists, spread a paste of baking soda and hydrogen peroxide on it and hold over steam from a tea kettle. If yellow stain remains, it can be removed with oxalic acid solution (one tablespoon of oxalic acid crystals in one cup of warm water.) For ink stains on wool, sponge with rubbing alcohol. On acetate and colored fabrics, rub stain with one part alcohol and two parts water.

Receiving guests were Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Larriviere, Mrs. N. A. Wiggers, mother of the honoree and her grandmother Mrs. K. N. Chase.

Mrs. Larriviere wore a beige linen dress with matching accessories and a yellow carnation corsage, gift of the hostesses.

Presiding at the bride's book was Miss Joy Lewis. Misses Mary Huckaby, Dell Wiggers, and Nancy Gardner served yellow and green embossed petit fours and yellow fruit punch from a tea table overlaid with a cut-work linen cloth. Miss Betsy Rountree of Oak Grove arranged the gifts for display.

More than 75 guests called between the appointed hours of three and six o'clock.

Utah Scientist Makes Viruses Out Of Chemicals

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — A Utah scientist has succeeded in making infectious viruses out of inert chemicals for the first time, it was reported here today.

Does this mean that life has been formed in a test tube?

"If viruses are considered to be living objects, then the answer is yes," said Dr. George W. Cochran, who described his experiments at a scientific meeting here.

However, he said the most significant result was that by producing viruses apart from a living cell, the virus-formation process could be studied more closely in seeking counter-weapons.

"It permits for the first time an understanding of the biochemistry of the virus-forming process itself," he said in an interview. "We can now examine it in great detail, and very accurately, and should be able to select chemicals to interrupt it."

Viruses are tiny agents which cause disease in men, plants and animals. In men, they cause colds, polio, measles, chickenpox, yellow fever, sleeping sickness and various other diseases.

There have been indications they may cause some forms of cancer. They cause world economic losses estimated at a billion dollars annually.

They are smaller than bacteria, so small they can be seen only with an electron microscope magnifying 10,000 to 200,000 times. They exist on an obscure borderline between living and nonliving matter, possibly a link between them.

It was noted, in Dr. Cochran's experiments, that the building of the virus structure was not entirely man-directed.

The code that guided the complex combination of chemicals to form the viruses was derived from a molecule with no living properties, taken from an infected plant. It was the command mechanism or pattern that organized the raw chemicals introduced by the researchers into the thread-like viruses.

"It zipped them together like the zipper on a valise," he said.

Dr. Cochran, a plant pathologist at Utah State University, heads a research team there, supported partially by grants from the National Institutes of Health and the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission.

"Viruses have never been produced before outside of a living cell," he said, noting that viruses often have been reproduced in test tubes by adding them to living cells, as in nature.

However, he said, the virus-forming operation was impossible to study clearly under such conditions, since it was mixed up with thousands of other biochemical reactions going on in the cell.

Separating the virus-production process "from the great biochemical complexity of living cells," he said, "places it in a more simple environment" for investigating it and finding means to control it.

"Our work should open entirely new lines in virology and medicine bringing us ever closer to an understanding of the nature of life itself," he said.

His technical report was for a meeting of the American Phytopathological Society at Oregon State University as part of sessions of the American Institute of Biological Sciences.

In producing viruses outside live cells, Cochran's team used four chemicals—triphosphates of adenine, guanosine, cytosine and uracil—a particular nucleic acid that makes up the virus, Cochran said.

As the genetic guide for arranging or synthesizing the chemicals, Cochran's team took some juice from a tobacco plant infected with tobacco mosaic virus, and the molecule guides could be used over and over again to make more viruses.

"Synthesizing molecules," containing the secret formula for assembling the chemicals into viruses were thus extracted. He said the chemicals were made radioactive so the resulting radioactive viruses could be observed more easily.

With one molecule mechanism, about 100 billion new virus units could be turned out in less than 30 minutes, he said. In some cases the chemicals were made radioactive so the resulting radioactive viruses could be observed more easily.

Progress In Mail Robbery Probe Told

BOSTON (AP)—Authorities report they are making progress in the investigation of the $1.5-million mail truck robbery last week in Plymouth.

William F. White, chief New England postal inspector, told newsmen Sunday that investigators have "encouraging information having to do with the identification of suspects."

He said the information was received just after midnight Saturday, "and it has solidified during the day."

The Boston Globe reported it has learned that one suspect is a post office employee.

Investigators scheduled another helicopter flight along the route of the mail truck after it was hijacked Tuesday and driven to Route 128 in Randolph. Over the weekend, detectives made the aerial survey about 10 times.

White said he is waiting for lab reports on the mail truck, the rope used to tie up the holdup victims, Patrick R. Schena, 36, and William F. Barrett, 51, and on several sets of fingerprints taken from abandoned and burned automobiles investigators say definitely were used in the robbery.

White discounted a published report that investigators are seeking six men from Greater Boston who have long criminal records.

Investigators say that from four to eight men and a pimply-faced girl took part in the robbery.

White feels the presence of a girl in the gang might lead to its downfall. He said: "It is a matter of history that when a female has been involved, trouble has developed within a gang."

Agents Seize Bogus Bills In Pecos, Texas

PECOS, Tex. (AP) — Secret service agents seized $118,240 in bogus bills Sunday and jailed a third suspect in operations attributed to a counterfeiting ring in the South.

Officers said boxes crammed with the fake money were hidden in the car of Joseph Stripland Allan Jr., 42, a Miami printer nabbed at Midland, Tex.

Federal agents and police made the other arrests Saturday in Dayton, Ohio. Authorities there said two prisoners, L. S. Ellison and William Hyden Langdon of Hamilton, Ohio, admitted passing bills in several Ohio cities.

The counterfeit money, in $10 and $20 bills described by one Secret Service man as the best he ever saw, was in the trunk of Allan's car. One box marked "good money" contained $31,000. There was a .45 caliber pistol in the car's glove compartment.

Ford Displays New Models

By ROBERT IRVIN
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI) — Ford today displayed 1963 model automobiles it said were "the most service-free and care-free cars ever produced in America." The auto firm broke precedent by admitting some engineering changes came about through stock car racing.

The cost of development was probably more than $100 million. The lineup of Ford Galaxie, Fairlane, Falcon and Thunderbird cars for next year includes a record 46 models, nine of them just introduced. Emphasis is on sporty models and overall styling follows the T-bird.

Among the new ones are a Falcon convertible and hardtop, a Fairlane hardtop and station wagon and two stripped-down Galaxie-size models designed to compete with the Chevrolet Biscayne.

Donald N. Frey, Ford division assistant general manager, said the customary 1,000-mile inspection on new cars had been eliminated and no maintenance is required for the first six months of 6,000 miles.

The 1963 T-bird requires major chassis lubrication only after 100,000 miles or three years use, with 6,000 miles between minor lube. Other models have a 36,000-mile major lube period.

Frey said the new Ford engines will run better than ever because of experience at the race tracks. He ticked off a long list of changes in engines and other parts made through tests at tracks like Daytona Beach and Atlanta.

Frey's statement admitting publicly what was long known privately was unexpected. But it was in line with the "let's be honest" dictum laid down by Henry Ford II in June when he publicly junked the industry's anti-racing ban despite pressure from Congress.

As for styling, the 1963 Galaxie gets T-bird rear fenders and tail-lights, new sheet metal on the sides with parallel chrome strips, a new grille and a new dashboard. Side vent windows are crank-type like General Motors.

Leaves Teamsters

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sam Baron, a Teamsters' union official who accused President James R. Hoffa of slugging him, resigned his 17,000-a-year job Sunday and demanded $50,000 severance pay.

Baron said in a letter to Hoffa that he hoped to "serve the Teamsters again but not as long as you are president of that great organization."

Wants Agency To Plan U.S. Education Role

DETROIT (AP) — An educator proposed today that a federal commission be created to plan this government's future role in education in order to cope with immense world changes.

Dr. Herold C. Hunt, Harvard University's Eliot professor of education, questioned the adequacy of present national policy in an address prepared for the American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) convention.

"For too long we have chartered a federal course in education without a compass," Dr. Hunt said. "Where we are going and how and by what means the government intends to get there should be the concern of every American."

Dr. Hunt said the government appropriates $2 billion a year for 300 education programs but that a cohesive plan or policy is lacking.

He asked the teachers union to propose to President Kennedy the naming of a commission of laymen and professional educators to map a future program.

He said such a program could help meet needs of the year 2,000, when America's population will have doubled, according to predictions, and her school and college enrollment will total 85 million.

"I can think of no action this convention could initiate that would be as far reaching in significance," he said.

Dr. Hunt, former school superintendent in Chicago and Kansas City and former U.S. undersecretary of education, was principal speaker at the federation's first convention session.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband does not drink, but every time we go out in public no one will believe he is sober from the way he acts. Last Saturday night we went to a night club with friends. My husband spotted 220 and is only 5 ft. 7. He spotted the daughter of a friend of ours at another table, so he went over and asked her to teach him how to Twist. The manager came out on the floor and told them to please sit down as they were creating a disturbance. (You should have seen them!). Then he went up to the girl who sings with the band, handed her a ballpoint pen and asked her to autograph his chest! He unbuttoned his shirt and she did. Everyone laughed but I didn't see anything funny about it. He's always doing things like that. When I complain, he says I have no sense of humor. Is he right or am I?

WORSE HALF

DEAR WORSE: Your husband must feel unloved and unappreciated at home or he wouldn't try so hard for laughs and applause from the general public. Build his ego a little and lessen his need to show off for strangers.

DEAR ABBY: How old do you have to be before you can go to the movies with a boy if your mother says yes but your father won't let you?

ALMOST 12

DEAR ALMOST: You have to be whatever age you reach when your mother and father both say yes.

DEAR ABBY: My family is very "profession - conscious." They don't care what a man is like as long as he's a doctor. I started dating an intern who turned out to be a Jekyll and Hyde type. In the company of others he is perfect himself, but when we are alone he is aggressive and brutish. My parents refuse to believe anything bad about him. My brother interns with this fellow and says I am childish and old - maidish about his friend's advances to me. (This is a loving brother?) I am 23 and don't want to be shown up before I marry. When I told my family why I wasn't going out with this animal again, my father laughed and said, "He is only a man," and my mother said it is time I was married. Am I wrong?

SAVING MYSELF

DEAR SAVING: Keep saving yourself. You will find dishonorable men in honorable professions. Select a man for what he IS, not what he does.

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

TELEVISION NOTES

More Hitchcock Set This Fall

Television In Review (Rick Du Brow is on vacation. Alfred Hitchcock sits in today as guest columnist, discussing his new fall series, which switches from NBC-TV to CBS-TV.)

By ALFRED HITCHCOCK

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — It is not literally true that television viewers, during the coming season, will see twice as much Alfred Hitchcock as before. My diet forbids such a ghastly eventuality.

At the same time that I am determined to remain a slyph of my former self, it is decidedly true that the Alfred Hitchcock Hour, as the title rather plainly implies, will endure for 60 minutes each week instead of 30 minutes, starting Sept. 20. "Sixty minutes" is, of course, a relative term. From that total must be subtracted time for commercials (that is indeed a temptation), as well as time for my "lead-ins." As long as the public seems willing to abide my presence on the screen, I shall make my brief appearance on the show, even at the risk of exposing myself to the indignities of being an actor.

Despite the sponsors' infringements upon our time, the one-hour period will allow us to

Quiet Weekend Reported On Police Front

Law enforcement officers in the Twin Cities and Ouachita parish reported little activities during the weekend. Monroe police booked only two persons; and West Monroe one.

Troopers of the Louisiana state police reported three minor accidents, with no charges filed and only minor injuries.

Monroe police, too, had minor accidents with no serious injuries.

Four persons were booked by Louisiana state police for operating motor vehicles while under the influence of intoxicating beverages. They were Tracy A. McVay, 110 Hill street, Monroe; John E. Sharp, 34, Route 1, Box 110, West Monroe; H. L. Brown, 51, Calhoun; and J. N. Foster, 37, 1102 North Third street, West Monroe.

Monroe police booked a Negro, Edward Lee Jones, 26, 405 North 22nd street, Monroe, with theft in connection with the loss of a .38-calibre pistol by Large Calhoun, Negro, of the same address.

Two 12-year-old youngsters missing from their homes since early Saturday were located in Hammond, La.

tell full dramatic stories in natural narrative style, whereas the half-hour show permitted us only short tales that led to a "twist" ending.

We are often asked how we have managed to find enough stories to sustain a mystery series over seven years' time. The query always reminds me of my arrival in Hollywood some years ago, when a studio representative accompanied me on the train from New York. He mentioned several movies, asking whether I had seen them.

"No," I replied. "I don't see many movies." The studio man said, "If you don't go to movies, where do you get your ideas from?"

We definitely do not get our ideas for the Alfred Hitchcock Hour from the late, late shows. In doing an anthology of one-hour dramas, we are in fact able to derive stories from all literary sources, not only originals but novels and all manner and length of published works. The half-hour form had limited us to short stories.

One hour also gives more time for character development and for humor, an indispensable item in any successful suspense story. I am privileged to divulge that suspense will remain an active ingredient of all our presentations. Beyond that the network, CBS-TV has earnestly solicited me not to reveal any story content.

Yet I do not think that too many CBS vice presidents will be upset if I relate here just one of the stories we have already filmed for next fall.

It concerns a beautiful blonde whose fiancé is a former mental patient, and on one dark night in a hospital laboratory . . . On second thought, it's too horrible to tell.
